ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first universities — Bologna, Paris and Oxford — were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word 'universitas' originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of this apprenticeship was celebrated by a 'commencement' marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on these gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over these gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the matter of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, students could be fined for cutting class or for not taking notes, and candidates for the master's degree had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times!

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an Academic Costume Code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institutions. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor's gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctor's, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A., M.A.L.S.), gold (B.S., B.L.S.) or drab (M.B.A.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The Faculty will be wearing hoods representing more than 80 institutions of higher education, e.g., navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia, orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, cardinal and blue for the University of Pennsylvania.

FACULTY EMERTI

Faculty members who have served Mary Washington College for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of Professor or Associate Professor are eligible upon retirement for consideration for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed upon four distinguished members of the faculty who are retiring at the end of the 1984-85 academic year.

Mildred A. Droste, Associate Professor Emeritus of Health and Physical Education. During 31 years as a member of the Department of Health and Physical Education, Miss Droste specialized in the teaching of golf and swimming and served as the intercollegiate golf coach. In addition to her teaching responsibilities, she served for six years as Dean of Students.

Albert G. Duke, Associate Professor Emeritus of Speech. A member of the faculty for 33 years, Mr. Duke has designed and taught all of the College's speech courses, including technical courses in phonetics and communication courses in public speaking. He has also served as parliamentarian of the faculty.

Miriam B. Hoge, Professor Emeritus of Modern Foreign Languages. As a member of the faculty for 29 years, Mrs. Hoge has taught French at all levels of the curriculum. She was a charter member of the campus chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and served for many years as its secretary-treasurer.

Alice B. Rabson, Professor Emeritus of Psychology. Mrs. Rabson has taught a diversity of courses within the Department of Psychology and has been a leading advocate of, and contributor to, women's studies on campus and in the community. She is retiring after 16 years as a member of the faculty.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

GOVERNOR CHARLES S. ROBB

WHEREAS, the Honorable Charles S. Robb has demonstrated exemplary leadership, foresight and courage throughout his governorship of the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding the uncertain economic conditions of the times, he has administered the affairs of the State in such way as not only to insure the maintenance of fiscal responsibility, but also to improve the prospects for economic progress; and

WHEREAS, through his keen understanding of the complex factors which contribute to the common weal, he has worked effectively to facilitate technological innovation, to address environmental issues and to enhance cultural opportunities for all Virginians; and

WHEREAS, because of his deep concern for the intellectual development of the leaders of tomorrow, he has secured significant increases in the funding for all levels of public education throughout the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, he has been especially supportive of Mary Washington College, demonstrating by precept and by example his appreciation for, and commitment to, those values which are inculcated through a philosophy of liberal learning;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by The Rector and Visitors of Mary Washington College, with the unanimous concurrence of the faculty, that, in grateful recognition of his multifarious efforts toward the improvement of the quality of life for this generation of Virginians and for those yet to come, the Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters be conferred upon the Honorable Charles S. Robb, Governor of Virginia.

ALMA MATER

*All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you,
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor,
You ever more shall be
The model of our future years
And all eternity.*

*Whene'er we have to leave you,
We never will forget
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.*
